Since this is the final deliverable, the entire application should be completed. Use the original specifications well as the Project Rubric as your checklists to ensure that you have completed everything. All can be found on ClickUP.

This includes all admin functionality required from the main specification. The application should be fully styled, fully implemented and running in Docker.

Test your application thoroughly using Docker to ensure that everything works as intended. On marking day, if your application does not work with Docker, you won't receive any marks. So it is crucial that you constantly test your application with Docker to avoid this situation.
